(Food plays a central role in our lives, not only for the necessary nutrients but also with its symbolic and emotional value. Our Verona cooking classes give guests an opportunity to reflect on the environment, a chance to consider better ways to create and to consume food, and finally, to identify how to contribute to a more sustainable future.

Always a guest favorite, this Verona cooking class shows you the tips and tricks of traditional Italian pizza making.

Our hands-on Italian pizza making class takes place at our Italian chef's laboratory. She teaches you the art of making Italian pizza so you can do it back home. The lesson also includes instruction on a traditional Italian dessert as well.

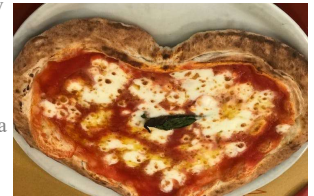

After your Italian pizza making lesson, enjoy lunch together with a glass of local wine – cheers!)
